CONTRACTOR TO REDUCE GARBAGE HAULED BY CITY

Public and Private Ownership Plans Are Combined in Recommendations of a Majority of Members of Municipal Commission.

INCINERATION PLANT IS PART OF PROPOSED SYSTEM

Two Reduction Works in Different Ends of City Are Contemplated in Plans Prepared by a Group of City Officials.

The municipal garbage commission, which has spent several weeks in devising plans for a new garbage collection and reduction system, is holding its final session Monday afternoon. Developments earlier in the day showed that the majority report would be accepted.

This report was prepared for presentation by a subcommittee, of which President Phillips of the Board of Public Improvements and Water Commissioner Adkins were members, Monday morning.

It recommends the reduction of garbage outside the city limits by private contract, and the establishment of incinerating plants
within the city limits, one in North St.
Louis and one in South St. Louis, for the disposal of waste matter and rubbish, as distinguished from garbage.

The report further recommends that the city shall haul the garbage and waste matter and rubbish after the expiration of the present contract, held by the Excelsior Hauling Co.

The commission recommends that the garbage reduction contract shall be for a period of not less than 15 years, arguing that neither competition nor low prices can be secured for a contract of shorter duration.

The commission recommends against a municipal reduction plant on the ground that such a plant would place the city in competition with local mercantile enterprises.

The commission recommends the establishment of incinerating stations for garbage, waste matter and rubbish in various parts of the city, with a view to shortening
the haul and thus securing better waste service.

HIGHWAY THROUGH DELMAR RACETRACK

St. Louis County Court Is Asked to Extend Sutter Avenue Towards World's Fair.

A petition for the opening of Sutter avenue through the Delmar racetrack was filed in the St. Louis County Court at Clayton Monday morning.

The petition is signed by 90 property owners and taxpayers living in the neighborhood of De Hodiament and Wellston, who allege that a thoroughfare which will give them a more direct line of travel to the World's Fair is needed.

They declare that the movement is not the result of any fight against the owners of the racetrack.

The petition sets forth that, at the time of the construction of the racetrack, there was little necessity for a direct line north and south, other than was furnished by Sixty-sixth street and the Hanley road.

The building of the World's Fair, it is alleged, has brought about a heavier north and south travel in this section, and the laying of the suburban tracks on Sixtysixth street has rendered that thoroughfare useless for vehicle and foot travel. It is set forth that the only outlet is over the Hanley road, a mile and a half west of the line of Sutter avenue.

Sutter avenue, if opened from the Olive street road, where it now ends, to Delmar avenue, on the south of the racetrack, would cut through the racetrack about 20 feet east from the grandstand.

FOOTBALL PLAYER A BENEDICT

Bridgroom of Two Days Played on Smith Team at Macon Before Telling of His Wedding.

Charles J. Annheimer, 2837 Von Versen avenue, the young Smith Academy football player who has distinguished himself for the red and white for two years past, surprised his teammates this morning by announcing his marriage to Miss Mary Kiasack of 239 Vernon avenue.

The couple went to St. Charles last Thursday and were quietly married there, according to Annheimer's statement. The wedding was quietly performed, and no mention was made of it to anybody.

The young benedict of three days went to the game for Smith against Bies Academy at Macon Saturday and acquitted himself creditably.

Information received from Philip Kiasack, brother of the bride, confirms the belief that the affair is an elopement.

Mr. Kiasack stated this morning that the young benedict and his bride had temporarily separated on his leaving this morning and that they were living with their respective parents for the time being.

Mr. Kiasack stated, however, that both of the bride and groom had been living for a long time at 239 and 241 Vernon.

DID NOT LONG SURVIVE HIS SON'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Geo. S. Platt.

George S. Platt, whose death is believed to have been hastened by the shock which he received when told that his son, Elroy
S. Platt, had committed suicide, will be buried from the family residence, 4102 North Eleventh street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, under the auspices of Moriah Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Platt was 65 years old and had been prominent in business in North St. Louis.
He was the head of the George S. Platt Construction Co., whose affairs are said to have been brought into their present shape through the actions of Elroy S.
Platt. Mr. Platt had suffered with paralysis for several years and was very ill at the time of his son's suicide.

OFFICER WILL GO AFTER WM. ZIEGLER

The Head of the Baking Powder Trust Who Is Under Indictment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 14.—Attorney General Crow will present an application to Gov. Dockery this afternoon for a requisition on the governor of New York to bring the head of the Baking Powder Trust to Missouri to answer to three indictments which were returned against him by the grand jury here Saturday.
The indictments charge that Ziegler, who is the head of the trust, conspired with other persons to defraud the state of Missouri of its revenue.

Gov. Crow is of the opinion that Ziegler is in New York and thinks there will be no question but that he will succeed in bringing the multimillionaire to justice before the Missouri courts.

Mr. Ziegler is the attorney for Senator Farris, who was indicted by the grand jury here Saturday for attempting to defraud the state of Missouri of its revenue in court this morning and gave bond for his appearance to answer to the indictment.

WOOLING BY MAIL NOT SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Wehr, Who Was Courtied by Man She Had Not Seen
Leaves Husband.

Mrs. Angelina Wehr filed suit for separate maintenance against her husband, Dr. S. E. Wehr, one of the oldest and best-known practicing physicians of St. Clair County, Illinois, Monday in the circuit court at Belleville, where the Wehrs reside.
Mrs. Wehr makes many sensational allegations against the veteran doctor.

Dr. Wehr married his present wife, who was then Mrs. Angelina Cahill of Barry County, Illinois, at St. Louis on April 15 of this year. They separated last Wednesday. Dr. Wehr is 70 years old and his wife 60.

The marriage of Dr. Wehr and Mrs. Cahill was the climax of a courtship launched through a matrimonial advertisement. Both were seeking mates. Dr. Wehr, under an assumed name, corresponded with Mrs. Cahill until satisfied that she was a woman after his own taste. Then he disclosed his identity and they met in St. Louis to be married.

According to the allegations in her suit,
Mrs. Wehr has not found her married life with the doctor a pleasant existence. She charges him with being "unkind, cruel and inhuman," and with having submitted her to indignities which began with a few weeks after their marriage. She says his conduct toward her was "unsafe, improper and undurable." She declares that on Oct. 2 and on other days the doctor was intoxicated, and used coarse epithets toward her. She says that on Oct. 2 he ordered her to leave the house and never returned, but that she refused to leave at that time. She says that on Oct. 2 he grasped her by the wrist and violently
"wrenched" her.

Mrs. Wehr further charges her husband with having so conducted himself professionally as to bring "disgrace and dare-put" upon her, and with having told her once that "her days were numbered."

Mrs. Wehr has returned to her home in Barry County.

IMBODEN SUIT NOW ON TRIAL

Father of Lillian Belle Pierce Says
Imboden Told of Common-Law Marriage.

MISS PIERCE ASKS ALLOWANCE

She Wants $500 a Year From the Imboden Estate—Mrs. Parrish
Contests Suit.

The hearing of the suit of Lillian Belle Pierce's suit for an immediate allowance of $500 from the estate of the late Luther E.
Imboden, whose common-law widow she claims to be, was begun before a jury in Judge Fisher's division of the Circuit Court Monday.

The suit is for the purpose of establishing Miss Pierce's claim that she and Col. Imboden were married by a common-law contract on July 27, 1888, and that Col. Imboden recognized her, among her friends, as his wife, up to the time of his death, on June 15.

The suit is being contested by Mrs. John G. Parrish, a daughter of Col. Imboden, who was married a short time after his death.

George Pierce, father of the plaintiff, was the most important of the witnesses heard Monday morning. He stated that he met Col. Imboden in 1888, and discussed with him the desirability of a common-law marriage. Col. Imboden explaining that he had never been a stepmother into the home while his daughter was there.

Pierce said that on July 27, 1888, Imboden came to him and said he had signed a common-law marriage contract with Miss Pierce. He said that from that date until his death he had bought clothing and groceries for Miss Pierce, had frequently given her checks and had in other ways shown his recognition of her as his wife.

He declared that a few days before the sudden death of Col. Imboden he had seen him at the race track, and had brought up the subject of the announcement of the marriage. Col. Imboden replied, he testified, that it would soon be made, and his daughter was to be married on July 24, and he would then be dissolved from his promise to his dead wife.

At the time, testified Pierce, Imboden seemed to be in excellent health, and expressed himself as pleased at the prospect of an early announcement of his marriage.

The deposition of Carl Victor, a physical culture instructor, was read. It stated that Victor, who lives at 447 West Belle place, had seen Col. Imboden, where the Pierce at French Lake Springs, where they were registered as man and wife under Miss Pierce's name, and where Col. Imboden introduced the plaintiff as his wife.

Testimony and depositions from other St.
Louis citizens who saw the same couple under the same circumstances during the same visit will be introduced.

Miss Pierce was heavily gowned in black silk. Her hair hung down and she was also handsomely gowned. The courtroom was crowded with well dressed women, who gave close attention to the testimony and the statements of Miss Pierce's lawyer.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which began here last Friday and continued until next Wednesday, is held in the Ninth Street Baptist Church, where the first gathering of its founders was held soon after the crusade started in Hillsboro, O., in 1873.

Some of the original crusaders still reside at Hillsboro, among them Mrs. Ellen Jane Thompson, who became known as "Mother" Thompson. She is the daughter of Allen Trimble, formerly governor of Ohio,
and she still resides in their ancestral home with her son and two daughters. Her husband was a prominent jurist.

"Mother" Thompson is now in her 88th year and was unable to get to the convention here, so the convention went to her today.

The distance is 61 miles. Excursion trains started early over the cold morning of Dec. 24, 1872, and then they marched into the memorial hall to inspect the national officers and to receive, by Dr.
Faulconer, the pastor.

ELOPERS' PRANK ENDS IN JAIL

Youth of 13 and Girl of 17 Appro-

SELL RIG AND COME HERE

Girl Wrote to Father Asking Forgiveness and Then the Policeman Came.

An elopement has brought sudden grief to Miss Ethel Borum, aged 17 years, and Charles Roberts, 18 years old, of Wena-ville, Ill., who are passing the climax of their honeymoon in a cell at the Four Courts.

It appears that when Charles induced Ethel to run away he decided to become just as reckless as the hero in the brave-dante novel.

"Let's get a horse and buggy and make a dash for Bloomington," was young Roberts' suggestion to avoid their parents.

"All right," replied his sweetheart. They had no money, but that, it seems, didn't make any difference to Charles, so appropriating a rig belonging to Edward Hayhurst of Wensville, they drove to Bloomington.

At Bloomington, it is charged, they sold the rig, realising therefor $25, on which they were able to journey to St. Louis.

They arrived here in the evening of Nov.
9, and went to live at 3836 Easton avenue.
Both say they intended to have a mistress, a charge of pocket picking was brought against them.

But after worrying herself sick Mrs. Roberts, as she is called, telegraphed to her father, Aaron, of Wensville, pleading for forgiveness.

"We are sorry," she wrote, "and we will make any difference to Charles, so appropriating a rig belonging to Edward Hay-
hurst of Wensville, they drove to Bloomington."

Chief Kelly sent an officer to their house Monday morning, and an hour later the young couple were at the Four Courts.
Chief Kelly says he will send them to Bloomington, where a charge of pocket picking was entered against her.

At the same instant, Policeman Pagan caught them by the shoulder. "What did you get?" he asked.

"My cash," said Dawson, and Pagan began to run after the woman. Lawson followed more slowly, and took an inventory as he ran. He found that he had lost $1 and a money order for $1.

Pagan caught the woman as she suddenly turned a corner. She had sat down to rest, quite out of breath.

Lawson accompanied Pagan and the couple conversational to the police station, where a charge of pocket picking was entered against her.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND TERRIBLY MUTILATED

Young Man Last Seen in Her Company at a Country Social Can-

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 14.—A message just received announces that Miss May Henneger, a prominent young lady of Bishop, who was supposed to have eloped with a young man, was found dead in a pasture near her home. Her body was horribly mutilated and half buried.

Miss Henneger accompanied Fred Struble, a neighbor's son to a supper and social given at the country schoolhouse, a short distance from the girl's home, Saturday evening. When she failed to return, her father and mother became alarmed, and after a search of several hours, they found her body in a pasture near her home.

The discovery of the girl's remains aroused the community, but all efforts of the authorities to locate Struble's whereabouts have proven unavailing. The condition of the body indicated a desperate struggle. The girl was the daughter of Newton Henneger, a prominent farmer.

RICH MAN KILLED IN ACTRESS' ROOM

Joseph Furlong, St. Louis Traveling Salesman, Kills St. Joseph Man Who "Dared" Him.

SAYS LIFE WAS IN DANGER

Members of Theatrical Company His Fellow Prisoners in St. Joseph Jail.

Joseph J. Furlong of 2335 Howard street has retained a prominent attorney of St. Joseph to defend his son, Joseph Francis Furlong, who is in the St. Joseph jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of killing Irving McDonald, son and grandson of St. Joseph millionaires, in the Metropolitan Hotel.

Father Bernard O'Reilly of the cathedral at St. Joseph, who was a classmate with young Furlong, saying that the young man shot McDonald in self-defense, and that his action was justifiable. Mr. Furlong says he has not received a detailed account of the shooting and the cause from his son.

Mrs. Lester Leland Myrick and Miss Grace Holt, actresses, giving New York as their address, are locked up in the same jail with Furlong.

The shooting occurred in the room of Mrs. Myrick at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, after the two women and Furlong and William R. Lynch of Cleveland had taken an after-theater supper at a cafe.

McDonald, Henry Ramsey, Alan Vannatta and Carl Warner, all sons of wealthy parents and social leaders of St. Joseph, joined Furlong's quartet in the absence of an invitation, and, according to members of the party, followed them when they went to the hotel.

Cocktail Order
Starts Quarrel.

A round of cocktails ordered sent to Mrs. Myrick's room was the beginning of the tragedy. Mrs. Myrick resisted the order, and McDonald and his friends were asked to leave.

A fight began almost immediately. Furlong says McDonald drew a knife and began to slash. Furlong thrust his revolver at McDonald's breast and told him he would shoot if he was not out. McDonald did not dare to shoot, and Furlong fired. McDonald died soon after.

As McDonald fell, Mrs. Myrick threw her arms about Furlong and called him her brother. He resisted the term, and she angrily cried:

"You deny me, do you? I'll fix you." Then she fell in a swoon.

Furlong went to the hotel office and surrendered his revolver to the night clerk. Then he asked that a policeman be called and gave himself up.

Furlong, Lynch and the two women were locked up. Later Lynch was released. Furlong declares that he acted solely in self-defense. He was tried soon after, but the trial was delayed.

Furlong was formerly a traveling salesman for the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co., but lately has been traveling for the O'Brien Varnish Co. of South Bend, Ind. A few years ago he was well known in St. Louis as a football and baseball player. He was 24 years old last Friday. His father is making an effort to secure his release on bond.

FACTS BROUGHT OUT
AT CORONER'S INQUEST.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 14.—The coroner's inquest today on the death of Irving McDonald brought out many facts not known. Witnesses testified that Mrs. Myrick, the chorus girl with Joseph Francis Furlong, had talked to McDonald and the other young men at the cafe, and that she had invited them to the Metropolitan Hotel.

When the party went there just before 4 o'clock, Mrs. Myrick also stated that she had grasped Furlong's hand, in which he held the revolver, and caused him to fire the shot.

Her evidence was contradicted by the other witnesses, who said she was not near Furlong at the time he was holding the revolver. Furlong has refused to talk, except to say that the four young men in the party were drinking. He says one of them had a knife. It was shown by other witnesses that McDonald was shot.

Furlong's coat at the time he was shot, and was trying to quiet the disturbance. Young McDonald was a graduate of Yale College and was a civil engineer. He was a grandson of R. L. McDonald, known as a wholesale merchant and breeder of fine horses.

SENTENCE DELAYED, NEW TRIAL DENIED

Trio Convicted of Naturalization Fraud Sees One Day's Arrest of Judgment.

FEIN GOES TO PENITENTIARY

Bond Required of Barrett, Dolan and Garrett Likely to Be Heavy.

Thomas E. Barrett, former marshal of the St. Louis Court of Appeals; John Dolan, chairman of the Democratic city committee, and Frank Garrett, former policeman, convicted in the United States District Court of participation in naturalization frauds, were denied a new trial Monday morning by Judge Adams.

The court was about to pass sentence on the three convicted men when Attorney Rowe stepped forward and filed a motion for arrest of judgment. The court set Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for hearing arguments on the motion. Sentence will probably be pronounced by Judge Adams Tuesday morning.

The defense stated Monday that in case the latest motion is overruled it will file notice of appeal the United States Court of Appeals, and ask for the liberty of the three men on bonds.

The present bonds of Barrett, Dolan and Garrett are $20,000 each. It is believed that in case of appeal the court would so greatly increase these bonds as to make the amounts prohibitive and necessitate imprisonment.

In overruling the motion for a new trial, Judge Adams said that all the grounds on which the new trial was sought had been suggested in the objections of the defense during the trial and that there was no point in which the court could change its ruling.

As to the contention that the indictments should not have been consolidated, the court ruled that such consolidation was entirely within the province of the law. On the point that the court had admitted competent evidence, Judge Adams said that he had seen fit to admit all evidence bearing in any way upon the facts and circumstances.

Nine More
Trials Coming.

When court convened at 10 o'clock District Attorney Dyer entered a nolle prosequi as to the two indictments returned against John E. Murphy, clerk of the St. Louis Court of Appeals. In one of these cases Murphy was indicted jointly with Barrett and Dolan in one case he was indicted singly. Col. Dyer explained that the indictment against Barrett and Dolan was returned through error, as naturalization papers to which his signature was attached and which were thought by the grand jury to have been fraudulent papers were proven legitimate.

The government also entered motions of nolle prosequi as to those charges against Dolan, Barrett and Garrett on which the jury had failed to agree.

Barrett is to be tried again Nov. 23, with "A. M. Murphy, photographer to Gov. Dockery, upon the charge of aiding and abetting 12 residents of St. Louis County in the possession of false certificates of citizenship.

Joseph J. Gillick, 901 South Broadway will be the chief witness for the government.

Among others to be tried soon are: Police Captain Samuel Boyd, against whom 12 indictments were found, each charging him with "aiding and abetting, counseling, advising, naturalization fraud." John J. McIllicuddy ("Cuddy Mack"), accused of having secured false naturalization papers; Joseph Fromson, secretary of the Hebrew Club; Joseph and Ferdinand Schwartz; A. D. Kaufman; Joseph and Fred Weissman and Jacob Romaneky, deputy sheriff and director of the Hebrew Jefferson Club.

FEIN AND WEISSMAN GO TO PENITENTIARY TUESDAY.

Adolph Fein and Charles Weissman, recently convicted in the United States District Court of aiding and abetting in the perpetration of the naturalization frauds, will be taken to the state penitentiary Tuesday. Fein is sentenced to five years and Weissman to three years.

George O. Swanner, sentenced to three years for impersonating a pension agent; Mrs. A. E. Harrison, alias Mrs. A. L. Murphy, sentenced to two years and an Levin, who is now serving a term for naturalization frauds and who was a government witness in the trial, will be taken to Jefferson City at the same time.

NO BABIES IN "BULL RING."

Jailer Dawson has issued an order that in future children under 18 years of age will not be allowed the visiting privilege of the jail without an order from the courts or the sheriff. The jailer says that hundreds of boys and girls go to the jail to gratify a morbid curiosity by staring at noted or especially disreputable prisoners.

At present time they are particularly attracted by George Collins, the bandit partner of Bill Rudeph.

Many parents have been in the habit of taking their children for promenades through the "bull ring." Women have even trundled their babies through in carriages. Hereafter parents must leave children behind.

Emperor's Fall Celebrated

The flag of Brazil was unfurled to the breeze at the residence of Alphonse de Figueiredo, the Brazilian vice-consul to St. Louis, Sunday, in commemoration of the fourteenth anniversary of the overthrow of Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, and the establishment of the republic.

Francisco de Souza Aguiar, commissioner-general to the World's Fair, his secretary, Maj. J. C. Kire, and the members of his staff, J. B. Moppa and J. Rocha Zia, were among the callers at the vice-consulate, 600 South Broadway.

Ear Severed by Robber.

The left ear of Stephen F. Emery, aged 51, was cut from his head in a fight with a negro porter, John Clark, at the Erie House, Sunday. Emery, who is a well-known St. Louis druggist, was returning home after he had retired to his room, and upon seeing the negro was fearfully alarmed. Clark escaped.

BOHEMIAN CLUB DEFENDANTS FREE

Judge Tracy Discharges Them Because Officers Did Not See Them Gambling.

The 14 men arrested in the gambling racket raid on the Bohemian Club, 415 Lucas avenue, were discharged after their trial in the Central District Police Court Monday morning.

Judge Tracy held that the mere fact that the men fled at the approach of the detectives leaving a great quantity of poker paraphernalia behind them, and were arrested before they could escape from the building, did not constitute evidence to show that they had been gambling.

"Chips might be found in a church, or even playing cards, but that would not prove that there had been gambling in the church," said Judge Tracy. "If the officers had seen these men gambling that would have been evidence."

The defendants, a well dressed lot of men, evidently enjoying a fair degree of prosperity, gave their names as follows:

Conney Heib, said to be gamekeeper, grocer, 2317 South Second street; Wm. Egan, broker, Alton; Gus Thomas, Lindell Hotel; Ike Long, Lindell Hotel; Frank Coy, clerk, Lindell Hotel; George Brown, 300 Prairie avenue; Fred Farris, 1413 South Compton avenue; John Scott, broker, Madison; Richard Bell, woodworker, 230 Lawton avenue; Wardell, clerk, East St. Louis; Steve Pryor, salesman, 4187 Delmar boulevard; Frank Jackson, 529 Shaw avenue; and Henry Springer, 1701 Chouteau avenue.

BOY OF 17 STRUCK MOTHER

Edward Enger Is Sent to the Workhouse for Six Months.

"The charge against you, which you do not deny, is the most contemptible that has come before this court. Any boy who will strike his mother should go to the workhouse for six months and then have the sentence repeated," said Judge Pollard in the Dayton Street Police Court to Edward Enger of 244 North Blair avenue Monday morning.

Enger is 17 years old. His mother testified with soba that she could not control the boy. She showed a wound on her hand where, she said, he cut her because she would not hurry up supper Saturday night. She also testified that he struck her when she refused him money to go car riding. The policeman gave him a very bad reprimand.

After talking with the boy for some time Judge Pollard fined him $20 and costs, two months in the workhouse, warning him that the fine was merely a corrective, not one for punishment.

FIRE ENGINES CAUSE DEATH

East St. Louis Man Expires From Excitement of Watching Them Pass House.

The excitement of hurrying to a window to watch the passage of the fire engines proved fatal to Gen. McDowell, a well-known resident of East St. Louis, early Monday morning.

As the last of the department's wagons went clanging past the window of his house at 235 Collinsville avenue he tottered, staggered to his bed, screamed and fell dead.

McDowell had been in ill-health for several weeks, and was confined closely to his room. Early Monday morning he was awakened by the noise of the fire department hurrying to a small blaze at the east approach to Eads bridge. He hurried to the window and, greatly excited, watched the wagons pass.

McDowell had a saloon at Fourth street and Broadway, and it is thought that possibly his excitement was increased by fears for the safety of that building.

McDowell was well known to turnmen on both sides of the river. He was 40 years old and leaves a wife and several children. His funeral will be held Tuesday. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery, St. Louis.

GIRL OF 11 ADMITS MANY THEFTS

Little Viola Heibel of Belleville 'Takes Money and Pretty Things'

"I stole because I like money and pretty things."

This is 11-year-old Viola Heibel's answer to the repeated questions of the officials before whom she has been "sweated."

Viola is a child criminal unprecedented in Belleville. She talks with mature deliberation of her crimes, carefully weighing each remark before she gives words to it.

The little girl was arrested Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heibel, poor people residing at 1018 North Illinois street, Belleville. The warrant, sworn to by Adolph Fehr, an East Main street florist, charges petit larceny, specifying that the girl has "stolen" "till-tapping and shoplifting."

When taken before Chief of Police Yeackel, Viola coolly confessed that she was guilty of the things charged against her. She said that since the first of June she had stolen, altogether, about $5 in various small amounts from the Wittauer grocery store on Caseyville avenue, at which her parents trade. She said that she frequently stepped behind the counters, while being waited upon, and took money from the cash drawer.

The child said she had stolen $1 from Fehr's floral store. She also confessed to the theft of ribbons, fancy silks and perumes from dry goods stores. These things she says, she took while pretending to desire to make a purchase.

ENGLAND IS THE 'UNREADY NATION'

Lord Wolseley, in Autobiography, Says His Country Is Never Prepared for War.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Gen. Lord Wolseley's interesting volumes constituting his "Story of a Soldier's Life," published here, only bring the story of his career up to the Ashantee war, but incidentally, they are a strong attack on the administration and a defense of the two branches of the service. Lord Wolseley describes England as "the unready nation," and says: "We are never ready for war, yet we never have had a cabinet which would dare to tell the people this truth. Our absolute unreadiness for war is known to all thoughtful soldiers, and without doubt all the details which go to make up the fact are duly recorded and docketed in the war office of every European nation."

Lord Wolseley accuses the "incompetent civilian officials" of Pail Mall to keep their hands off the regiment and strongly denounces the present system of appointing civilian war ministers.

He thinks that some sort of compulsory service is necessary.

Among the interesting reflections scattered through the book is the expression of the writer's opinion that the Chinese are the most remarkable race on earth and are destined to be the great coming rulers of the world.

Man Afflicted With Asthma Owns His Life to a Ferryman Who Pulled Him Out.

Ferdinand Breideneyer, 50 years old, living at 2119 North Thirteenth street, now at the City Hospital, owes his life to a ferryman.

Breideneyer, a victim of asthma, while sitting on the wharf at the foot of North Market street Sunday afternoon, was seized with a violent fit of sneezing. He sneezed so hard that he could not hold his seat.

With nothing below him but the river, he fell. He had gone under twice when rescued and hurried to the hospital.
